PLAN FINAL TRIBUTE TO CALVIN COOLIDGE

President And Capitol Leaders To Attend Rites

Chief Executive Of Nation And Wife Will Attend Coolidge Funeral

SPECIAL TRAIN LEAVES TONIGHT

Flags On All Government Buildings At Half Mast For 30 Days

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Mourning with the nation the passing of former president Calvin Coolidge, President and Mrs. Hoover and political leaders of the capital were preparing today to attend the funeral services at Northampton, Mass.

The president's train probably will leave tonight and arrive in the Massachusetts town early tomorrow morning. White House military and naval aides were sent to the Coolidge home immediately upon receipt of the news of the former president's death.

Sends Condolences

At the same time, Mr. Hoover dispatched condolences to the widow at Northampton, and ordered a thirty day period of mourning for the entire nation.

Flags on all government buildings in the capital and throughout the land are at half mast today, and in all army and navy concentrations throughout the world.

Committees representing the house and senate will also leave the capital today to attend the funeral services.

The house committee named by Speaker Garner includes:

Democrats: Rainey of Illinois, Montague of Virginia, Connery of Massachusetts, Greenwood of Indiana, Douglass of Massachusetts, and Douglas of Arizona. Republicans: Gibson of Vermont, Snell of New York; Treadway, Pinkham, Luce and Underhill of Massachusetts, and Dyer of Pennsylvania.

Vice-President Curtis has not yet announced the senate committee.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A vehicle with 1932 license plates was being driven in the vicinity of Washington and Mercer streets yesterday afternoon. Wait, don't call the police. The plates were on a small tricycle operated by a little girl.

Flags atop every governmental building here, the post office, City building and others, promptly were lowered to half mast on Thursday as soon as the news that Calvin Coolidge had died was flashed here. President Hoover, at Washington, has officially ordered the flags to fly in that position for 30 days.

As Old Sol peeked over the buildings downtown today, Assistant County Superintendent of Schools Clare B. Book felt satisfied. Book it seems, is taking a motion picture film of Lawrence county's rural schools in action. He's been handicapped frequently by the low hanging fogs. The films will be used for various purposes of the county office.

Attorney R. F. Dana; Coolidge Classmate; May Attend Funeral

While the sudden death of Ex-President Calvin Coolidge was a shock to every citizen of New Castle and Lawrence County, the one man most effected by the news was Attorney Richard F. Dana who was a class mate of the late president. Together they graduated from Amherst in the class of 1895.

"Calvin Coolidge was not the most brilliant student in the class" said Mr. Dana. "He did not go in for athletics, nor did he shine as a social light. He was marked by one quality which stayed with him during his entire life, his genuine sincerity."

Quiet And Industrious

"He came to Amherst as a quiet, industrious New Englander. There was no display about him, no ostentation, just a quiet determination to complete his studies, and to get everything he possibly could from his four years in Amherst. This

Girl Is Found Slaying Victim In Philadelphia

Body Is Believed That Of Rose McCloskey, 19, Head Crushed In

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6.—A girl believed to be Rose McCloskey, 19, who disappeared when her escort was mysteriously attacked last night, was found beaten to death today.

The crushed and broken body of the girl was found by a guard in a clump of bushes in Fairmount Park. Her head had been bashed in with a heavy instrument. The body bore numerous cuts inflicted by a razor, police believe, and gave every evidence of a vicious criminal attack.

Dennis Boyle, the girl's escort last night when she left for a delicatessen store, was in a critical condition in the Presbyterian hospital, suffering from a probable fractured skull.

Police were unable to make a positive identification immediately but from a comparison with photographs expressed the opinion the body was that of the McCloskey girl for whom detectives and police had scoured all sections of the city.

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—A cable of sympathy over the death of Calvin Coolidge was sent to President Hoover by President Von Hindenburg today.

"Let me express to your excellency," the cable read, "my deepfelt sympathy over the decease of former President Coolidge."

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 6.—Mr. Coolidge, you didn't have to die for men to throw flowers on your grave. I have told a million jokes about you. But every one was based on some of your splendid qualities. You had a hold on the American people regardless of politics.

They knew you were honest, economical and had a native common sense. History generally records a place for a man that is ahead of his time. But we that lived with you will always remember you because you were "with" your times.

By golly you little red-headed New Englander, I liked you. You put horse sense into statesmanship. And Mrs. Coolidge's admiration for you is an American trait.

Yours,

Will Rogers

Death Of Coolidge Shocks Physician

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Colonel James F. Coupal, personal physician to Calvin Coolidge during his occupancy of the White House, was shocked at the report of his death.

He told International News Service the former President showed no symptoms of ailment during his term of office.

"His blood pressure was 135, which was pretty good for a man of his age at that time," Coupal said.

He said the only physical trouble Mr. Coolidge had while President was a few bad teeth, which had been extracted during a trip to Northampton.

Dr. John C. Leonard of this city, has returned to Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, O., for treatment.

'Town Meeting' Out In Shenango

Citizens Meet And Discuss Tax Situation With Officials

TAX MILLAGE CUT AS RESULT

Reverting to the New England "town meeting" plan of government Shenango Township settled its 1933 budget on Thursday night, and reduced the millage from ten to seven mills, when the supervisors, auditors and citizens met in the Shenango Township High school on the Old Pittsburgh road.

The idea of a 'town meeting" may be rather ancient in America government but it was found to be eminently successful Thursday night. Misconceptions were removed, results were accomplished, and a bond of harmony cemented between the tax payers and the officers of the township.

For some time the taxpayers of the township have been insisting that their millage should be reduced. Finally the supervisors invited citizens from all points of the township to meet on Thursday night, January 5 for the purpose of discussing the tax problem and a large number responded.

Temporary Officers

For the purpose of conducting the meeting Senator George T. Weingartner was elected chairman and

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR FORMER PRESIDENT SATURDAY MORNING

Simple Ceremony In Church Where Coolidge Was Married, At 10:30 A. M.—Burial To Take Place In Vermont Family Plot—Body To Lie In State For One Hour Saturday Morning—Mrs. Coolidge Bears Up Bravely

By DAVIS P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 6.—The everlasting silence of death today closed around Calvin Coolige, the quiet one, while the nation moured his loss.

The former president will be buried tomorrow in the homeland soil of Plymouth, Vt., hallowed by his Puritan ancestors.

Even as he lived, simplicity will mark the funeral services to be held here tomorrow at the Congregational church where he worshipped each Sunday.

With the president who succeeded him making a special pilgrimage tomorrow to the funeral services and high officials from throughout the land attending, it was decided today to alter the original plans slightly.

Tomorrow the body of the former president will lie in state with the local company of the State National Guard acting as an honor guard.

The public will be permitted to view the body for an hour, from 8:30 to 9:30 a. m.

The services will take place at 10:30 a. m. and will last only one-half hour.

Then the funeral cortege will wind over 100 miles of New England hills to the Coolidge family graveyard, where the former nation's chief will be laid to rest beside his father, mother and young son.

Many File Past Bier

Townsmen, statesmen, friends from near and afar, today filed past the unpretentious bier of the man who worked much, said little and served his country long and well.

Within the Coolidge house of mourning, with the peaceful Berkshire hills for a back drop, Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge, the widow, controlled her sorrow. She had suffered a nervous prostration shortly after her famous husband had been fatally stricken from a sudden heart attack. But she was reported recovered and bearing up bravely.

John Coolidge, only living son of the ex-president, and his wife, the former Florence Trumbull, kept close to Mrs. Coolidge.

The only other surviving relative of the late president is an aunt, Sarah Pollard, of Proctorsville, Vt. She is almost 100 years old and was not expected to attend the funeral services here.

Service In Morning.

The services will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow at the Edwards Congregational church, founded by the noted Colonial minister, Jonathan Edwards.

The Rev. Albert J. Penner new pastor of the church, will officiate.

The Coolidge family Bible, which the late president read nightly, will be used in the services.

The favorite Coolidge Psalm, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," will be included in the funeral ceremony.

Details of the sudden death of Mr. Coolidge were divulged today by Harry Ross, his confidential secretary, one of the last to see him alive.

Tells of Sudden Death.

"Mr. Coolidge had breakfast with Mrs. Coolidge," Ross told International News Service. "She said she planned to do some shopping in town. He asked her: 'Don't you want to take the car, dear?'

"She replied: 'No, its' too nice a day. I'm going to walk.'

"Mr. Coolidge was driven by his chauffeur, John Bukoski, to his law office at 8:30 a. m. He gave some dictation to Mrs. Ruth Hanner and seemed in the best of spirits. He completed his work without complaining of ill health. I rode back with him to his home at 10 a. m. and chatted in the library until 10:30 with him."

Mr. Coolidge talked of his future plans.

"He said: 'In the future, I'm going to spend as much time as I can in Plymouth.'"

Never Forgot Vermont Farmhouse.

Coolidge never forgot the modest Vermont farmhouse where he learned of the good earth and the virtue of early rising and retiring.

He attended Amherst and hung his lawyer's shingle in this town eight miles away. He courted and married the vivacious Grace Goodhue, teaching at a deaf and dumb institution nearby. (They were married in the old Edwards Congregational church.) He served in local, state and national office, to become known as the iron man of Massachusetts politics.

But he never neglected his visits to Plymouth.

It was in the dimly lighted farm house there that he chose to be sworn as president when the late President Harding passed away.

Setting out for Washington in 1923 as the new chief magistrate of the nation, Coolidge did not forget to consecrate himself in prayer at the grave of his mother.

There were two more sorrowful pilgrimages to the rural cemetery in the Vermont highlands—when his aged father died and when his young son, Calvin, Jr., passed away.

Last Chat With Coolidge.

"We chatted about common things. We just talked as good friends talk. we were always perfectly at ease with one another. Mr. Coolidge left the room five or six times, I guess.

"He puttered about as a man who loves his home will do in his own house.

"He went upstairs after a while and I busied myself about the library waiting for a further summons. It was about 11:30 a. m., as nearly as I can figure it.

"Mrs. Coolidge returned at approximately 12:25 p. m., and she went up stairs to speak to Mr. Coolidge without even removing her coat.

Found Coolidge Dead.

"She found Mr. Coolidge dead. She

President-Elect F. Roosevelt Obviously Pleased With New York Conference

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt today, for the first time, took a firm rein on the affairs of the National Government by definitely assuming the leadership in a move to balance the federal budget.

In an epochal three-hour conference with eleven Democratic congressional leaders an agreement on legislation was reached by which it is hoped the anticipated national deficit of $492,000,000 for the coming fiscal year can be wiped out.

The conference, held in the Roosevelt home, for the time being transferred the political capital of the country from Washington to New

China May Break With Japan Now

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Jan. 6.—China may sever diplomatic relations with Japan, according to reliable reports today.

It was learned the Chinese government is considering this as a result of the Japanese capture of Shanhaikwan.

It was reported the Chinese government sees little value in pretending relations between the two nations are normal and also believes there is small possibility of settling their differences through mediation.

I expect I should be writing, lyric poems and inditing lays to Spring and all her hand maids when the weather's what it is, but today the desk I'm redding and I find a cut on sledding, and besides I think the weather man knows little of his biz. Here the month is January and it should be stormy, very, and the hillsides should be covered with a foot or more of snow, but instead it's mild and warmy, not a bit like winter, stormy, and just what the weatherman intends is something I dont know.. But for me I'm not inditing any lilts on spring or writing, any poems on the buds and bees, or strumming any lay, on the joys of spring you gether, for it should be winter weather, so the cut is run on sledding yet it's forty four today.

SWICK AND COLLEAGUES DIFFER ON ISSUE

Economy Plan Votes Conflict

Swick Votes To Sustain President In Cut Of $606,000 In Fund

TEMPLE, COCHRAN AGAINST 'CUT'

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—Representative J. Howard Swick had a difference of opinion this week over the question of economy with his colleagues, Representatives Temple of Little Washington and Cochran of Mercer.

Under current appropriations, employees of the immigration service and border patrol are required to take an extra thirty-day furlough a year without pay. The sum of $606,000 a year is needed to do away with this furlough, but both President Hoover and the Budget Bureau recommended against this $606,000 increase.

Nevertheless in the House this week an effort was made to override the President and write the $606,000 into the dificiency appropriation bill. The proposal was rejected by a 169 to 114 vote. The ballot split both parties.

Representative Swick voted agains authorizing the $606,000 increase opposed by President Hoover and the Budget Bureau, Representative Cochran and Temple, on other hand, both voted with the minority group of 114 approving the boost.

sincerity soon impressed the rest of his classmates, that dogged determination of his marked him from the town council of Northampton, to the president's chair."

"The class was not as large a class as they have in colleges now and naturally we were able to know each other in a more intimate way than is possible in college today. In the three years I spent at Amherst with Calvin Coolidge (Mr. Dana went there as a sophomore) I learned to admire the man for his sincerity, for his frankness and for his capacity for work."

"He did things thoroughly and his experience in government was learned in the same methodical, efficient manner that his college education was gained. He started in the town council of Northampton, was town solicitor, went to the Legislature, later was elected lieutenant-governor, then governor, then vice-president and then president. Back of his ascendency to the presidential chair was a long period of training under such statesmen as Henry Cabot Lodge, Murray Crane, and Gillette. All of them were from Massachusetts, and all of them were statesmen of unusual ability."

As Mr. Dana spoke of his late classmate, there was genuine sorrow in his voice. In all the years Calvin Coolidge was president, steadfastly refused to gain any publicity for himself in that fact. Those who knew the facts, knew that Mr. Dana and Mr. Coolidge had been classmates and close friends, but with admirable reticence, Mr. Dana refused to trade upon that fact. If it is at all possible, Mr. Dana will go to Northampton for the funeral, although this is doubtful.

Correct this sentence: "When his fool policies finally caused the nation's ruin," said the man, "He up and died of remorse."

A philosopher is one who can inherit $50,000 net and not think of the Government's $175,000 share that he didn't inherit.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR FORMER PRESIDENT SATURDAY MORNING

called to me. I don't remember exactly what she said. I went upstairs. He was lying on the floor on his back in his dressing room. He looked mighty peaceful. His face showed no sign of pain.

"He had been preparing to shave. His coat and vest were off. I called Dr. Edward W. Brown (the Coolidge family physician and the Northampton medical examiner).

"At 12:45 p. m., I telephoned John Coolidge in New Haven that his father had gone away."

Ross said although he did not complain of feeling ill during the morning, Mr. Coolidge had made frequent references to indigestion pains during the last week. Ross attributed these pains to heart trouble.

Cause of Death.

Dr. Brown gave the cause of death as coratory thrombosis (bursting of an artery at the point where it enters the heart).

An official death certificate will be issued later today.

There will be no autopsy, the medical examiner said.

Coolidge underwent a physical examination from Dr. Brown a month ago and he was found to be "organically perfect".

Through his 60 years the former president seldom suffered from ill health, aside from periodic attacks in the summer of "polen poison" a New Englandism for common hay fever.

Burial at Plymouth.

The former president had expressed his wish before death to be buried in Plymouth following simple funeral services in his own Northampton church, International News Service learned.

In complying with his wish, Mrs. Coolidge declined the suggestion of Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, that the body of the ex-president be laid in state in the hall of flags at the capitol.

The suggestion of other friends that Mr. Coolidge be buried in the National cemetery at Arlington was also declined.

Telegrams and cables of condolence were being received by Mrs. Coolidge at the rate of fifty a minute.

President-Elect Deeply Shocked

Roosevelt Expresses Grief At Death Of Former President Coolidge

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—President-elect Roosevelt issued the following statement when informed of former President Coolidge's death:

"I am inexpressibly shocked at the news of Mr. Coolidge's death.

"The nation suffers a great loss in his sudden and untimely passing.

"I shall never forget his generous and friendly telegram in 1920 when he defeated me for the Vice Presidency.

"The deepest sympathy of Mrs. Roosevelt and myself goes out to his family."

The news of Coolidge's death was conveyed to the President-elect as he was seated at his desk in his home by Marvin McIntyre, one of his secretaries.

Family history: Live in a small house; raise a large family; get prosperous enough to build a big house; live in two rooms because the kids are all gone.

People say Roosevelt will have the next congress in his vest pocket, but what we wish to know is whose pants pocket it will be in.

ROOSEVELT TAKES REINS FOR BUDGET BALANCE PROGRAM

York, and when the parley broke up speaker John N. Garner, vice president-elect, acting as spokesman, outlined the manner in which the Roosevelt administration proposes to balance the budget.

Program Outlined

"We propose to meet the deficit by reducing the appropriations under the budget estimate to the extent of $100,000,000" said Speaker Garner.

"We propose to re-enact the gasoline tax to bring in an estimated revenue of $137,000,000.

"We propose to enact a beer tax to bring in at least $125,000,000.

"And we propose to levy other taxes to bring in from $130,000,000 to $150,000,000.

"We probably will raise these additional taxes by lowering the exemptions in the income tax from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and for single persons from $1,500 to $1,000 and by increasing the normal tax rate from 4 per cent and 8 per cent to 6 per cent and 12 per cent."

Roosevelt Pleased

President-elect Roosevelt was obviously much pleased over the result of the deliberations. To newspaper men he said:

"I am very much encouraged by the conference. I got a very clear picture of things."

Mr. Roosevelt said the tariff was not mentioned at the conference and farm relief was merely touched upon as a part of the general program, the sales tax was not discussed. Neither was the proposed tax on interstate bus and truck commerce.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson, majority leader of the Senate, and one of the conferees, declared he saw no reason why the program outlined at the parley could not be put through at the present session of congress.

A resolution for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment was also discussed, Senator Robinson said. There was a general feeling, he added, that the repeal resolution should conform with the Democratic platform.

Communists Chased

A sidelight to the conference was an attempted demonstration by 500 communists, many of them women, in the vicinity of the Roosevelt home. The would-be demonstration was put down by police fists.

Carrying banners, reading "We want jobs" "When do we eat?" and the like, the communists maneuvered for half an hour in the vicinity of the Roosevelt home. Police kept them moving and blocked the entry into the street leading to the scene of the conference. Several scrimmages took place when some of the boldest of the demonstrators attempted to break through. In the melee which followed, a policeman was knocked down and dozens of the marchers roughed up a bit.

Blast Furnace At Sharpsville Will Resume Operation

(International News Service)

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 6.—One blast furnace at the Shenango Furnace Company plant at Sharpsville will resume operations next Tuesday, officials announced here today.

Indications are that the furnace, which shut down during mid-December, will be in operation for about a month.

Five out of 32 blast furnaces now operate in the Shenango and Mahoning valleys.

'TOWN MEETING' OUT IN SHENANGO

Attorney Clifford W. Fenton secretary. The meeting then became general with the supervisors, Frank Smith, John Kennedy and Joseph Baldwin presenting the needs of the township and the citizens asking questions.

Item by item the budget was gone over. In some cases items were eliminated entirely. In others a reduction was made, and in still others the amount was left standing. The supervisors agreed that they would reduce their compensation for the year by twenty per cent. The township indebtedness, cvreated by odd and ends that have accumulated in the past few years, will be met by a short term bond issue.

At times the comment upon the items in the budget became highly critical. Citizens spoke their minds freely and in the end a real result was achieved. The supervisors promised to abide by the tentative budget as closely as it was humanly possible and to make the levy for 1933, seven mills if this were possible and there seems no reason to believe it cannot be done. This is a reduction of three mills or a reduction in the taxes of the citizens of Shenango Township, thirty per cent.

Ottawa hockey teams have won the Stanley cup, emblematic of the world's championship, eight times.

Still, living just as you do now didn't seem so bad when you knew you could cash in for a million.

A WORLD MOURNS

THIS nation has sustained an irreparable loss. One of its outstanding citizens, a former Chief Executive of the nation, Calvin Coolidge, has been snatched from the prime of life and a stunned world mourns his passing.

Calvin Coolidge epitomized American life. Born a poor boy on a Vermont farm, he rose by dint of his own abilities to become the ruler of his nation. Meteoric brilliancy was lacking in his makeup but in its place was a dogged determination, an honesty rugged as the granite hills of his native state, and the ability of leadership which guided this nation through seven years of prosperity and economic peace.

Simplicity marked his life and actions. When the police of Boston went on strike there was nothing grandiose in the manner in which he as governor of Massachusetts, dealt with the strikers. His handling of this strike won him national acclaim and was probably responsible for his nomination as Vice President in June 1920. Back of that decisive action was a life of determined action that saw him rise from a farm boy to college graduate, to attorney, to governor of his adopted state.

The most striking simplicity marked his induction as president. On that night of August 2, 1923, when President Warren Gamaliel Harding was taken by death, in the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, Calvin Coolidge was visiting at his father's farm in Vermont. When the word was flashed from the Pacific Coast that President Harding was dead, it was necessary that the Vice President take the oath immediately.

By the light of an oil lamp, with his hand on the family Bible, in the sitting room of his father's farm house, Calvin Coolidge became president, his father, who was also a Notary Public, giving him the oath.

As president he became famous for what is still known as "Coolidge Economy". As a boy and as a man he had practiced rigid economy in his own affairs. As president he believed that the same principles of economy were applicable to governmental affairs, and the citizens of the United States will always remember that almost single handedly, he argued for governmental economy at a time when spending was the order of the day.

He left the presidency almost as simply as he was inducted. After serving out the unexpired term of President Harding, and a four year term to which he was elected, he kifled off any attempts to re-elect him when he issued that now famous statement, which for its brevity and incisiveness has seldom been equalled: "I do not choose to run." Sparing in his words as he was in expenditures of money he left no doubt in the minds of his countrymen that he would not be a candidate again.

This nation can illy afford to lose such a man as Calvin Coolidge. He occupied no official position, yet as a private citizen he was looked to for leadership, for guidance and for counsel. Fate had marked him to be a leader of men and yet by some ironic twist of that same Fate he is removed at a time when leadership such as his is priceless.

The United States of America will long remember Calvin Coolidge. Not for any love of pomp and circumstance, not for sporadic brilliancy, but for sound, constructive statesmanship, for sane thinking and acting, for his genuine Americanism.

NO FAITH IN FEDERAL REORGANIZATION

President Hoover has not been misled by the announced intention of the next Congress to turn over to Mr. Roosevelt the job of consolidating Executive departments and agencies. He sees in the promise merely an attempt to check criticism for the present inaction by a "device" which will ultimately defeat the proposal. Certainly if Congress were honest in the matter it could have acted in the present session.

What reason is there to believe that the Democrats will be more sincere after March 4 than before the inaugural date? With thousands of hungry office-seekers demanding rewards for their political services, their personal feeling of need sharpened by the widespread unemployment, the pressure on the new Administration will be great enough to doom the reform.

A fool and his equilibrium are soon parted.

It is easy to mistake ignorance for a good disposition.

A clear conscience is the trump card in the game of life.

ESCAPE? FROM WHAT?

A woman I know lifted her eyes from a newspaper that told of the suicide of a young woman who had thrown herself from a tall building, and said something that, to me, at least, seems important. That desperate young woman had left a letter explaining that she "had to escape from life."

And this other woman said: "I wouldn't kill myself today. I want to stay alive to see what happens. This is the most interesting period in all the world's history. More interesting than wars. More interesting than great inventions. More interesting than pioneering. I don't want to escape from this, no matter what happens. I'll stay alive, just to see."

I read an advertisement that praised a detective story as "escape literature" for people who could not endure the hardships of ordinary living. . . . Once I saw a sign in a circulating library advertising horse riding as an escape from life. . . . I've read that Karl Marx read the novels of Sir Walter Scott and Dumas as escapes from "Das Kapital". . . . And I've been told that anyone who likes and plays bridge is merely making a pathetic attempt to escape from himself and admitting his own failure in more solemn and useful endeavors.

But I do not think that playing bridge and committing suicide are on the same plane. (You see, I like bridge, while I do not intend to kill myself.) Bridge, Scott, horse riding, books, eating, sleeping, dreaming, working, worrying, grieving, laughing, being excited, being cantankerous, being agreeable, thinking and loafing—all these and thousands of other occupations—are part of living, and no escape from it.

Only the dull and stable life is truly difficult and approaches the unendurable. This life in which we are involved in 1933 is exciting and dangerous and challenging, and no matter how heavily burdened a man may be, no matter how desperate a woman may become, something is happening all the time, and curiosity should be stronger than despair.

"I'LL BET I'M RIGHT"

One of the ordinary pests is the fellow who always wants to "make a bet" that an opinion he presents is correct.

Usually he will not listen to argument in opposition to his ideas.

He becomes boisterous and offers to make a bet that he is right.

In fact there is never a time when his ideas are at variance with those around him when he does not stand ready to "back up" his opinions.

Usually this fellow is not in financial position to risk money.

He is neither a person of unusually good judgment nor is he one possessing any great fund of reliable information.

Ofter he is enabled to carry his point because others will not cover the amount that he wants to wager.

Being a successful bluffer gives him the kick and satisfaction he seeks.

Some men are like that.

It is one of the ways they draw attention to themselves.

Thus they satisfy their enlarged ego.

To bluff a man out of a position that he honestly believes to be true gives them a lot of self-satisfaction.

And this, apparently, is what they crave.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

COINCIDENCE

Two men there were, each with a task to do.
Their children wanted dinner and a bed.
One had great wealth, a million, say, or two,
The other had to work with hands and head.

The rich man drove about the market place
To see what delicacies could be bought;
The other walked to work at easy pace
And to the things for dinner gave no thought.

His wife would see to that right well, he knew;
He'd smell the dinner as he turned towards home.
'Tis only men with little else to do
Who have the time 'round market stalls to roam.

That evening with their families two men sat:
The rich and poor—small home and mansion fine.
The good Lord smiled above to notice that
Both men were happy on roast beef to dine.

BEHIND A MILK BOTTLE

In discussing some outstanding farm problems, an authority on those subjects vividly described what is back of the bottle of milk the housewife finds on her doorstep each morning.

Back of it are the broad green fields, the rolling hills, the shining homes and barns of the countryside. Back of it are plants employing thousands of men and women, and express trains and trucks speeding the milk to the city so it may be delivered in perfect condition. Back of it is the prosperity—or the failure—of whole communities of banks, farms, manufacturing businesses.

If that bottle of milk sells for a fair price, it means that taxes are met, mortgages are paid promptly, men are given work at good wages. If it sells for an extremely low price—as in the case of many states at present—it means that mortgages are foreclosed, bills and taxes are unpaid, stores go into bankruptcy. Back of that bottle of milk, then, are frozen assets, hard-pressed or bankrupt country banks, sheriff's sales.

A good commodity cannot be produced at too low a price—whether that commodity be milk or wool or automobiles or furniture or clothing. That is the reason, in the case of the farmer, for cooperatives which, through mass action, give agriculture the bargaining power with which to maintain a fair price for what it has to sell. Every person interested in American prosperity will wish the cooperative movement all success.

The idea of making public the amounts all properties in this city are assessed might be a great thing. A lot of taxpayers now think they are getting the worst of it. If all knew what the other fellow was taxed it would be a mighty good thing. Some properties are taxed as they should be and we might find one in our own family if we wanted to make a howl.

Freeing Of Insull By Greece Declared Of Doubtful Value

Americans Believe Former Utilities Leader Should Have Presented His Defense Before Illinois Courts And Avoided Exile

There is a lack of sympathy for Samuel Insull, whose extradition from Greece was refused by a court of that country, and who becomes an exile from his own country. Public sentiment upholds the view that he should have presented in the United States, and before the Illinois courts, his defense to charges of violation of the law in connection with the operation of the utilities group of which he was the head. It is felt that his future movements will be greatly restricted.

"The extradition treaty with Greece," according to the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, "may or may not be seriously defective. The result of the Insull proceedings may suggest important changes in the instrument, with a view to averting in the future what Americans regard as miscarriages of justice. No country extradites, or will agree to extradite, persons for offenses not covered by its own code, but that principle should not lead to unnecessary misunderstandings, conflicts of definitions and vague and loose phraseology in extradition pleadings." Of the opinion that "the prospects are he will always be an exile" and that "he may not have to go to prison, but he cannot come back to the United States without facing that prospect," the PORT HURON TIMES HERALD thinks "that may be punishment enough," and that "it has been sufficient to send many a man back to 'take his medicine.'" The GOSHEN NEWS-TIMES feels that "no sorrier ending for his tragic career could have been written."

"Insull's attorney declared before the Greek court," says the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS, "that the former utilities magnate opposed extradition to vindicate himself, but in this he has failed. * * * From this country's point of view Insull is a fugitive from justice." The INDIANAPOLIS NEWS recalls: "The Greek court did go so far as to hold that in the transactions alleged by the state of Illinois to be contrary to law the element of intent was lacking, and that they were carried through in the interest of the business involved rather than for the personal gain of the accused person. But the declaration of the Insull attorneys that there was an element of political persecution involved in the case probably had its effect. The inference was that the alleged aid extended by the Insull organizations to political figures might be brought into a trial to the political advantage of men representing the state in the role of prosecutors. It is a fair presumption that the emphasis placed on this probability was not without its effect on the court. Significant also is the popularity of the verdict with the Greek people. Evidently it strengthened their faith in Greek justice."

Denial that he went to Athens "as a political refugee" is made by the MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL, with the assertion that he went "in hot haste with the sheriff at his heels," and the advice that "other fugitive Americans have learned to their sorrow that a foreign land which they dare not leave is a prison in fact, if not in name." The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL points out that "the Greek court ruled that the acts for which he was indicted were not criminal under Greek laws, because he did not benefit personally from them," and that "so long as he does not enter a country where he can be extradited, this country cannot touch him." The ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC declares: "We are beginning to believe that what the United States needs is a well-managed department of publicity which 'will tell the world' just what sort of nation we are." This thought is inspired by the fact that "whether or not it is true that the impression prevails abroad that politics is paramount in America, counsel was able to convince the Greek Court of Appeals that his point was worthy of consideration."

"It is with difficulty," proclaims the BALTIMORE SUN, "that one rises to shout across the seas, 'Fair Greece, sad relic of departed worth,' and to demand to know what Demosthenes, Socrates or Pindar would have to say about this business." The Sun adds: "'Heaven doomed the Greeks to bleed,' a theme for future song,' decreed Alexander Pope, and they should be warned that unless Greece possesses a proper successor to Homer, able to make an Insulliad worth reading, they should read the fine print before signing on dotted lines. A host of common stockholders can testify that the tug-of-war which is understood to result when Greek meets Greek is not a circumstance to what happens when magnate meets magnate. If the Greeks are their old cagey selves, their motto will be 'et timeo Samuel et dona ferentem.' Let Mr. Insull be added to 'the mingled beauties of exultant Greece,' but let her keep her distance when he trots out any crinkly papers about eight inches by six, printed banknote style, with pictures of Ceres and the Goddess of Electrical Energy for decoration".

"He emerged from the court room a popular hero," says the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION, which concludes that future proceedings would be fruitless, while the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL agrees that he is "safely established in Greece unless a Senate investigation manages to kick up such a disturbance that to silence the clamor the diplomacy of both nations will get busy and find a way to bring the fugitive home." The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR sees "his financial collapse" as "perhaps 10 times as costly to investors as that of Kreuger," and adds: "One might wreck all this havoc and yet, by establishing innocence of wrong intent, save something of his name. But not when he refuses to answer charges legally preferred against him; not when his sense of values is so warped that he can look upon a legal dodge as a moral victory."

His loneliness abroad is emphasized by the ALTOONA MIRROR and the SCRANTON TIMES, while the MERIDIAN (MISS.) STAR feels that "thousands of investors may doubt the right of Greece to defeat the cause of justice," while the CLEVELAND NEWS avers that "it

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOT SO HARD

There is an old proverb which says "constant dripping wears away stone," and today it is easily demonstrated that a jet of water can make the hardest metal seem as soft as cheese. This jet is used in a machine prepared to determine the wear on aeraplane propellers cutting through a foggy morning, or the blades of a steam turbine revolving in ocean water. It is a sure test of the right kind of metal for such purposes.

Two plugs made of the metal to be tested are whirled around inside a casing at a speed of 20,000 revolutions a second, equal to 13½ miles a minute. With each revolution the plugs meet and pass through jets of water little thicker than the lead in a pencil.

The amazing result is that plugs of stainless iron or nickel steel wear halfway through in two or three minutes. Stellite and iron nitride, which is almost diamond hard, hold out only fifteen or twenty minutes each.

Coolidge's Last Words To Nation

CALVIN COOLIDGE
NORTHAMPTON
MASSACHUSETTS

December 28, 1932.

Mr. Bradley Kelly,
American Radio News Corporation,
114 East 58th Street,
New York City.

Dear Sir:-

For the year 1933 it seems to me that we need cooperation and charity. The resources of our country are sufficient to meet our requirements if we use them to help each other. We should cooperate to promote all kinds of business activity. We should do what we can in the way of charity. If all that is implied in these two words could be put into operation not only would our economic condition begin steadily to improve but our destitute would secure ample relief. I can think of no better resolution for the New Year than to work in these directions.

With kindest regards, I am

Very truly yours,

Calvin Coolidge

From the little law office of Coolidge and Hemenway at Northampton, Mass., where he engaged in private practice, Calvin Coolidge sent this, his last, message to the American people, just a few days before his death and unaware of that impending event. The nation needs "co-operation and charity" he wrote. To the left is the door of his little office and below the former president at his desk in Northamtpon.

The boy by the name of "Young" previously mentioned in connection with this false alarm, is not included in this group of five, having been exonerated from all connection with the affair, as a result of the investigation by the police.

Rev. Keeney's Message Heard By Banner Throng; Speaks Tonight

The City Rescue Mission service crowds topped a new peak last night as Evangelist Walter W. Keeney, making an extended appearance here preached a stirring sermon to last night's throng on "Dripping and Dipping". The evangelistic meetings opened some time ago.

A visiting pastor, Rev. B. G. Osterhouse of Ellwood City, led last night's singing, and with Mrs. Osterhouse sang a vocal solo entitled "Precious Hiding Place". John Wink and Mrs. Avery Rigby sang "He is Coming Again."

Mrs. Sarah Falls Davis will sing a special solo and the Merry Maid Sunday school class will offer chorus numbers during tonight's program, the feature of which will be Rev. Keeney's message on "The Wail or a soul in Distress."

Jesus Begins His Work

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel."—Mark 1:15.

(The International Uniform lesson on the above topic for Jan. 8 is Mark 1:2-20, the Golden Text being Mark 1:15, "The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

In last Sunday's lesson we had the statement "John came", and a bit farther on the significant statement, "It came to pass in those days, that Jesus came."

Jesus actually came, not only to this world, but into all the experiences of humanity, with the single exception of sin. He came where men were and identified himself with their lot. This is evidenced by his baptism. Though he had no sin of his own to be repented of or to be washed away, he thereby confessed his identity with our race and his willingness to be "numbered among the transgressors."

Jesus actually came into our experiences in the matter of being "tempted of the devil", tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin. It was absolutely necessary that he so come.

Therefore we read, "Straightway the Spirit driveth him forth into the wilderness. And he was in the wilderness 40 days tempted of Satan." As God's "second man" and "the last Adam" Jesus Christ was God's new model in humanity and must be tested in all points before he is commended to the world for its acceptance. In this testing Satan exhusted every temptation and shot everything he had to no avail.

So our Lord knows our temptations and trials and comes to us with sympathy and compassion. Yes, Jesus comes where we are even in the presence of Satan and all the trials with which the tempter besets our paths.

Jesus Calls

When Jesus thus comes to us he comes with a clear, clarion call to us. This call is first a call from sin by way of repentance. "Jesus came, preaching the gospel of God, and saying, . . . Repent ye, and believe the gospel." The keynote of his preaching was identical with that of his forerunner, John the Baptist. We must first break with sin before we can cling to him. He calls us not from paths of sin through repentance, but into paths of fellowship with himself. Coming upon Simon and Andrew at their fishing he called them unto him saying, "Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men."

This was not his first meeting of these fishermen. He had met them a year before as disciples of John. (For between verses 13 and 14 of our lesson a whole year of our Lord's ministry is omitted by Mark, the story of which we may find in John 1:19 to 4:42.)

After that first contact with them they had gone back to their nets and boats to meditate upon the wonderful experiences of that brief fellowship with him. Now he comes their way again and calls them into closer fellowship with him.

Jesus Commands

His call now becomes a command. He had become the Master of their lives and his wish is more than law to them; it becomes their delight to do his will. So, we read of Simon and Andrew that, "straightway they left the nets, and followed him". Likewise of James and John: "Straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him." His purpose is explained shortly (3:14) thus, "that they might be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach." He called them to him to teach them that they might teach all nations. His call to fellowship becomes his command to serve. Service, not selfish enjoyment, is ever the goal Christ sets for us.

Dr. Perry Will Head Physicians

Lawrence County Medical Society Elects At Meeting Last Night

Dr. S. W. Perry was last night elected to head the Lawrence County Medical Society for the 1933 term when physicians of the district assembled for their annual business meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Perry, long active in the organization's work, succeeds Dr. John Foster, who retired immediately following the voting.

Others Are Chosen

Other officers elected were:

First vice president, Dr. James D. Crawford; second vice president, Dr. J. B. Barrett; treasurer, Dr. W. C. Burchfield, and secretary, Dr. W. A. Womer. Womer has served as secretary for years.

Members of the society elected to the new board of censors, the controlling group of the doctors, were Dr. L. W. Wilson, Dr. A. W. Shewman and Dr. W. L. Steen.

Retiring President Foster, before stepping aside for Dr. Perry, read to the members letters from the city's junior and senior high schools, expressing the appreciation of the libraries at each building for the society's new subscription in their name to the medical magazine, "Hygeia." It is given annually as the doctor's gift.

Ponder Medical Survey

While the election occupied a large part of the meeting time, the scheduled discussion of the reports of the national committee on Medical Economics, headed by Ray Lyman Wilbur, M. D., secretary of the interior, constituted a most enlightening feature of the evening.

The national committee made two reports following a five-year study, one a majority offering and the other the expressions of the minority. The local society, after fully considering all points, voted to support the minority's stand which calls for a continuation of the present system of medical practice, rather than to accept the majority's attitude which would adjust radically the present system of medical practice. The latter would, figuratively speaking, pool the doctors' talents instead of allowing each to serve individually.

The minority report, reportedly winning favor in medical circles the country over, also recommends that medical education be improved, that the public health service be extended and that medical qualification be improved where warranted.

A large group of physicians shared last night's discussion. Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry Veach, New Wilmington, was voted into membership.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels, you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost.

Secure from Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add 1-4 pint hot water and a little sugar. One tablespoonful four times a day should quickly relieve distressing catarrhal head noises, clogged nostrils, difficult breathing and dropping mucous, and improve hearing. All victims of catarrhal deafness or head noises should give Parmint a trial.

Road Supervisors Show Good Work

Commended By Tax Justice League At Meeting In Union Township High School

The Tax Justice League of Union township met Thursday evening at the Union high school. A report of the road supervisors for the fiscal year, 1932 was received and analyzed. It was found that the board of supervisors on a twenty per cent reduced millage over 1931, had paid off about two thousand dollars of old debts and reduced the fixed debt one thousand dollars.

Reports showed that the roads had also been maintained in a highly satisfactory condition, and that the year had been ended with a cash balance. A resolution was passed commending the supervisors for the economical manner in which they handled the work on the roads, and the satisfactory condition of the township's finances for 1932.

A committee consisting of Robert S. Atkinson, Joseph O'Laughlin and Karl T. Rohrer, was appointed to confer with the supervisors on the subject of the millage for 1933.

The meeting was well attended by representative body of the taxpayers of the township. The next meeting was set for the first Thursday evening in February at the Union high school building.

Rev. S. R. Maitland of this city, along with millions of other Americans was deeply shocked to hear of the sudden death of former president Calvin Coolidge, but was one of the few local persons who was acquainted with the late chief executive.

On two occasions, Rev. Maitland was a guest at meetings at the White House, during Mr. Coolidge's administration, he recalled this morning. Rev. Maitland had a very pronounced affection for the New Englander, who served the country as president. "I can hardly realize that he is gone," Rev. Maitland said this morning. "His will be a hard place to fill."

Down WITH THE CHOKE!
OUTSELLS EVERY GASOLINE IN PENNSYLVANIA BY MORE THAN 2 TO 1
ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH
The super-fuel at regular-gas price

It costs you money

YOU KNOW what the choke is, of course . . . that little gadget on the dash which you pull out when the engine is cold, and keep out until the engine gets warm. Every time you use the choke it costs you money, because it sends raw gasoline flooding into the cylinders, instead of gasoline mixed with air.

You can't do away with the choke entirely. But you can do the next best thing: Use ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH . . . the super-fuel that allows a minimum use of the choke.

With ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH in the tank, you step on the starter, and Zip! . . . the spark takes hold like a flash from brain to muscle. No frantic churning to drain the battery and strain the starter. No costly flooding of the carburetor. The coldest engine whirrs into instant action.

And your car warms up more quickly! There's no sluggishness to hold you back, as with a lazy gasoline. No constant use of the expensive choke.

Brilliant performance in coldest weather is only one of the many reasons why Pennsylvania motorists buy more than twice as much ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH as any other gasoline. Use it for two weeks . . . and you'll quickly learn the other reasons for yourself.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It
There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (it won't cost you more than thirty-five cents 35c), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

List Of Don'ts For Bridge Given

Noted Instructor Tells Of Proper Table Etiquette For Players

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—How you behave at the bridge table has an important bearing on the game and its results for each individual. If you play without consideration of the other players—including your own partner—not only you, but your friends, fail to receive the maximum of enjoyment out of the game.

E. V. Shepard, famous bridge expert and teacher, has drawn up a list of dont's for guidance of players. Among other things, he settles the problem of whether the cut should be completed or whether or not to pick up the cards while being dealt.

Here are the "don'ts" of contract bridge etiquette:

DON'T

—complete the cut.

—put hands on the table while cards are being dealt. (It costs a 50-point penalty if you face a card above a 7-spot; a new deal for any exposed card.)

—talk, except to bid, after the cards are dealt.

—mumble your bid.

—litter the card table with gloves, purse, etc.

—use edge of table to park your cigaret; if not in sight, ask for an ash tray.

—drum on table.

—hum or whistle.

—ask the score; watch it.

—grouch about poor cards, nor gloat over good ones. Luck evens up.

—ask who dealt; the still pack is on the left of the next dealer.

—ask the trump. The trump suit is always placed at dummy's right.

—use pencil except for scoring.

Typhoid Fever Shows New Low

Past Three Years Has Seen Reduction In Disease Despite Abnormal Weather

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—Typhoid fever has established a low record for the three year period 1930 to 1932 inclusive, according to reports released today from the bureau of communicabel diseases, State Department of Health.

In 1929 there were but 12,061 cases reported in the entire Commonwealth. This represented the lowest incidence for this disease ever recorded in Pennsylvania.

During the summer of 1930, owing to the country-wide drought, an abnormal gain was recorded and the year closed with 1590 cases. Similar conditions existing in 1931 brought the annual total up to 1509. In 1932, however, with weather conditions more normal the tentative figure for the year will be less than 1400 cases.

Constables Reports May Be Abolished

Bill Introduced In Legislature Would Abolish "Blind Man's Parade."

Under a bill which has been introduced in the state legislature by Norbert J. Fitzgerald of Erie, returns of constables, known as the "blind man's parade" would be abolished.

Passage of the bill would not materially affect Lawrence county, as the "blind mens' parade" was practically abolished by Judge R. L. Hildebrand several years ago.

Under the old system all constables of the county were required to make reports at every session of quarter sessions court. They were expected to tell about infractions of the law, and report bad roads and bridges.

So few of them ever found any infractions of the law, and so few ever discovered any bad roads, that it was considered a useless piece of expense in having them report four times a year. The great majority of them had nothing to report, and the procedure came to be known as the "blind mens' parade."

Under the orders of Judge Hildebrand only those constables who have anything to report are expected to attend the quarter sessions court.

In some counties of the state, however, there has never been any change in the ancient custom, and it is to do away with it entirely that the proposed bill is now before the legislature.

LOCAL LIBRARY BUSINESS GOOD

Old Man Depression must be gritting his teeth in anger everytime he thinks about the New Castle free public library. That is one place the old gentleman has not been able to get into. In fact, with the old man's arrival as Uncle Sam's unwelcome guest, business at the library has been thriving like never before.

Thousands of books are in constant circulation, the number of borrowers has increased tremendously since 1929, and the reading rooms are always full. Miss Alice Sterling and her staff are kept continually busy. To a reporter's question "How's business?" Miss Sterling answers "Fine!"

Comedy Reigns In Police Court

Two Mental Cases Are Up Before Mayor Charles B. Mayne

Comedy reigned supreme Thursday at the court of Mayor Charles B. Mayne, through no efforts of the mayor or the police to create the same, but due to the presence in court of two unfortunate men.

The men were "Engene Davis," who claimed to be from Cabot, Butler county and was picked up, when he tried first to have a taxicab concern take him to his home in Butler county and then had tried to borrow a car in which to drive home.

The other was Carmine Necarra, who was apprehended on Croton avenue, as a result of his peculiar actions. It was found that he was an inmate of the county home and had wandered away from that place.

Each appeared to be amused by the efforts of the other. Davis was attired in a bathrobe, wore spats and a stiff hat and was carrying a cane, as he walked into police court and said "Good Morning, Mayor". He claimed that he belonged to an order of cowboys and was a big time hit on the Keith circuit and his efforts at acting created the comedy in police court. The bathrobe, he claimed, was a special Spanish Coat of great value. His remarks convinced the mayor that the best place for him was Butler county, so he was transported in a police car to the Butler county line.

Necarra, on the other hand, reported a valuable invention, which he tried to explain. The invention he said would make it possible for two automobiles going sixty miles an hour to crash together and not be damaged in the least. He was returned to the county home.

American Legion Plans Campaign On "Buy American"

Will Foster Community Movement To Better Conditions In Country

"Buy American" the slogan of the movement that is gaining impetus all over the country and has for its sole aim, the lifting of this country and its industry and business out of the depression in which it has been for so long, is being sponsored all over the country by the American Legion and here in New Castle and Lawrence County, Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion, is assuming the lead.

The movement here was inaugurated Thursday by the apointment by Thomas Edmunds, Commander of Perry S. Gaston Post, of Dr. H. H. Rosenthal as chairman of the Legion committee in organizing a community effort along the lines of the movement.

There will be committees appointed including people representative of every side of the social, business, civic and industrial life of the community and meetings held to further the movement.

The movement here as elsewhere is entirely for the purpose of furthering the sale and use of American made goods and products and is not designed in discrimination against any one country. It is unbiased and entirely American.

A contest will be arranged among the school children and suitable awards will be made for the best written expressions in regard to the movement.

The movement is based on the expressed opinion of the American Legion that the United States is self-supporting, which organization is for that reason taking the lead in heading the fight of the country to get out of the depression.

THE FLOUR'S FAULT

"I wish to complain," said the woman shopper, "about the flour you sent me, it was tough."

"Tough, ma'am?" replied the grocer.

"Yes, tough. I made pies with it and my husband could hardly eat them."

William "Bits" Bierhalter has resigned as trainer of the Boston Red Sox. He was connected with organized baseball as a player, umpire and trainer for 40 years.

Outdoor Activities Enjoyed By Coolidge

His Smile

Although Calvin Coolidge was of serious mien, occasionally the cameraman caught him smiling broadly. This photo was made in January, 1928 the last year of the Coolidge presidency.

He didn't mention it, but doubtless Mr. Hoover would be willing to consolidate a lot of postoffices now, too.

The Harding Cabinet

With Vice President, Successor, Predecessor

PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

Cook together two cups granulated sugar, two tablespoons peanut butter and one-half cup milk until it forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla, cool and beat until creamy. Pour into a buttered pie plate and when nearly cold cut in small squares.

LAUNDRY HAND LOTION

Keep a pint bottle of cider vinegar in which a tablespoon of table salt has been dissolved on your laundry shelf. Before hanging clothes out of doors and while hands are still damp, rub this lotion well into the hands until dry. Your hands will not be rough and will stay warm while hanging out clothes. May also be used after washing dishes.

Captain Ed Kostainsek of the Virginia Military Institute football eleven, played at fullback this year. In his versatile career he has also been on the institution's team as a guard, tackle and center.

From Boyhood To Present In Coolidge's Life

Receive News Of Death Of Former Sheriff S. W. Bell

Funeral Occurs In San Diego, California, On January 3

SAMUEL W. BELL

Samuel W. Bell, former sheriff of Lawrence county, civil war veteran and prominent resident of this city for many years, died Friday, December 30, 1932, at 10 a. m., in San Diego, California, where he had resided for the past thirty years, since leaving this city, according to the letter received by Mrs. H. D. Horner, East street, a niece. He had been in failing health for a number of months and his death was not altogether unexpected. He would have been 91 years old in February.

During his residence in this city, Mr. Bell was prominent in the affairs of the Community and active in politics. He served Lawrence county one term as sheriff.

Since residing in San Diego, Mr. Bell on different occasions has visited this city, the old home town to him, and the last of these occasions, when he visited here was in 1930, when he came by airplane to this city to participate in the proceedings of the Pennsylvania Department of the Grand Army of the Republic and Affiliated Organizations in the early part of June that year. At that time he expressed the feeling that it was his last visit here.

He had been equally active in affairs of the community at San Diego since locating there and had served as president of the Pennsylvania Society of San Diego for many years. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

A son, Rufus Bell, preceded him in death quite a number of years ago. He leaves to mourn his loss, a daughter, Mrs. Nell McCracken, of Los Angeles, Cal., who sent word here, also two grandchildren, Edwin Bell and Mrs. Walter Driver, children of Rufus Bell, and residents of Beaver Falls.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, January 3, 1933 at San Diego. Burial was also made at that place.

Numerous Trips Made Thru City By Calvin Coolidge

Like many other Presidents, Calvin Coolidge passed through New Castle on his way between Washington and the West, but so far as is known the only stop he ever made here was when he was en route from Washington, D. C., to Marion, O., to attend the funeral of President Warren G. Harding.

President Coolidge had been President but a few days. The body of the late President Harding had been brought from San Francisco to Washington and then back to Marion, O., for the funeral. President Coolidge, accompanied by cabinet members, ambassadors, members of the army, navy and marine corps, went through New Castle to Marion and stopped at the seventh ward station of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for about five minutes.

Several thousand citizens were at the station to pay tribute to the new President, and Attorney Richard F. Dana, a classmate of Calvin Coolidge, boarded the train and chatted with him for several minutes.

As Japanese Prepared to Take Shanhaikwan

This picture, made outside China's Great Wall at Shanhaikwan some time ago, shows a batch of apparently care-free Japanese soldiers engaged in trench-digging. It was not foreseen at the time that these trenches would later be used in a new drive by Japan for control of the Jehol Province. It was from here that the Jap attack, which climaxed in the capture of Shanhaikwan, was launched.

Allow Opening Of Meyer Avenue

City Waives Ordinance In View Of Leak In Gas Line

Council decided today when they met in city hall to permit the opening of Meyer avenue, paved recently, so the Manufacturers Light & Heat company could repair a gas leak. The city has an ordinance prohibiting opening of newly improved streets for a period of five years following improvement.

Under the circumstances council thought it best to allow the excavation or an explosion may result. The opening will be done by the gas company employes but under the supervision of Carmi Glover, city employe. The company also was granted permission to excavate at 1018 Croton avenue for the same reason. The excavation in Meyer avenue will be made at No. 322.

"Baker Estate Heirs" Again Become Active

Secretary Of Internal Affairs Issues Warning Against Associations

STATE RECORDS SHOW NO ESTATE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—So many inquiries have reached the department of internal affairs recently from supposed heirs to the so-called mythical "Baker estate" that Secretary of Internal Affairs Philip H. Dewey today sounded a warning to interested persons to refrain from making investments in the various Baker "heir" associations which have been springing up in all parts of the country.

For almost fifty years the Department of Internal Affairs has been receiving inquiries about the Baker estate and intensive study of the Commonwealth's old land records, which are kept in the department's vault, has failed to reveal any trace of it. Claimants to the estate list among the assets the land on which City Hall in Philadelphia is located as well as the sites of most of that city's large business places. Recently some new associations have been formed and the "heirs" are claiming many other parts of Pennsylvania.

Secretary Dewey said today that the entire scheme is a gigantic fraud and that there is no evidence in his department that any legitimate claim for property can exist. He said that "the department has an accumulation of evidence that unscrupulous lawyers and others are using the mythical estate as a means to collect vast sums of money from people throughout the United States and Canada who are made to believe that they are heirs."

Still, if there were no laws, you couldn't make stealing legal by thinking up a nice name for it.

The Tobacco Crop may be Short this Year—

but that can't affect Chesterfield—why?

Production of tobaccos usable for cigarettes or "roll your own."

U. S. crop (average, 5 years, 1927-31) .	1,091,265,750 lbs.
U. S. crop (Govt. estimate, 1932) . . .	751,601,000 lbs.
Estimated shortage, 1932 crop . . .	339,664,750 lbs.

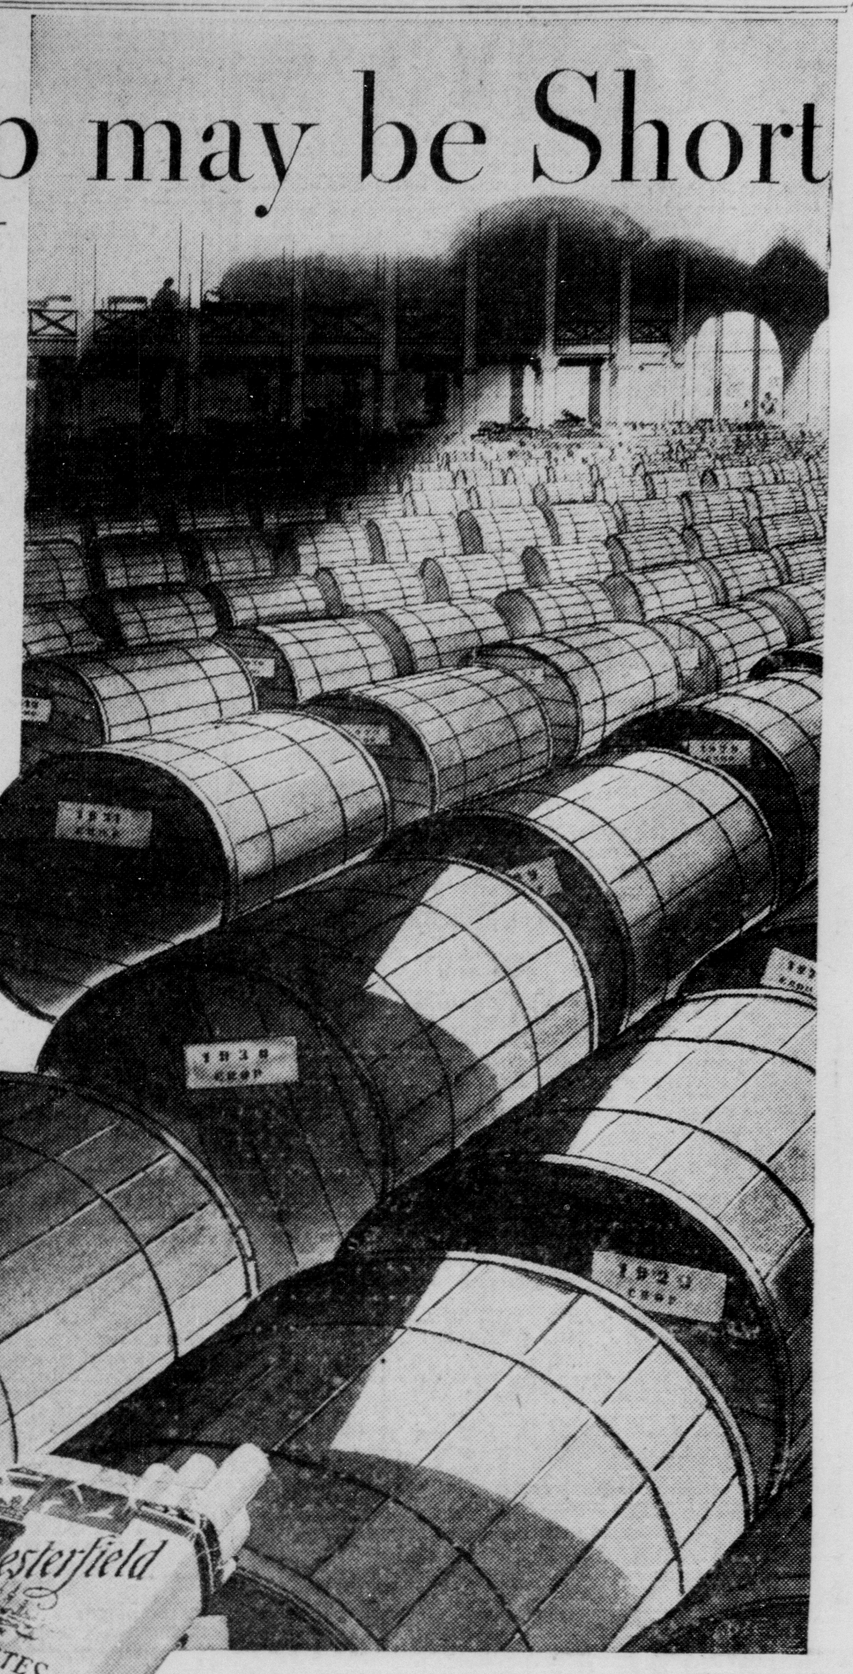

The manufacturer of good cigarettes does not depend on any one year's crop. He knows that to keep up the quality of his brand, he has to carry on hand at all times a large stock of the right kinds of tobacco from several years' crops.

The domestic tobaccos are kept in large hogsheads, each containing about 1000 pounds, and are allowed to age for two full years—in other words, nature's method of curing the tobaccos. Something like ageing wine.

Liggett & Myers has about four and a half miles of warehouses used for storing leaf tobacco, to make sure that its products are uniform and are as good as can be made.

To do this requires a great deal of money—for example, there is invested in the domestic and Turkish tobaccos for Chesterfield Cigarettes over $75,000,000.

Smokers can be assured, regardless of the crop conditions, that Chesterfield will be absolutely uniform—the same yesterday, today, at all times. The cigarette that's milder—the cigarette that tastes better!

Senior High School News

Vote Dr. Galbraith For Baccalaureate

Great problems have their place in the Senior A activities. One worry, however, is on the "chalked off" list.

The graduating class of '33 has voted for Dr. Galbreath, President of Westminster college, as the baccalaureate minister. Every member of the class is pleased with the outcome of votes.

The services, January 22, will begin the series of graduating exercises.

Teacher Recovering At Hospital Today

Miss Florence Shapo, shorthand teacher at the Senior high school, stricken suddenly ill last Tuesday, was reported as improving today in the New Castle hospital. Miss Shapo suffered an attack of appendicitis.

ATTENDANCE IS DOWN

During the past several weeks the attendance at this school has fallen to a low figure. The grippe and flu have hit the faculty and student body in no uncertain fashion. Miss Taylor, Senior Class Supervisor, has been very ill for several weeks. We hope she soon will recover fully or at least sufficiently to permit her to resume her duties. Several other faculty members have been absent, but soon will be back to the old grind.

The large absence has caused class work to go forward rather haltingly. However, in spite of such epidemics, "time and tide wait for no man," and final examinations days will arrive all too soon.

ALTER STAGE CURTAINS

Through the generosity of two former graduating classes of this school the curtain in our auditorium will undergo alterations. The money, as left by the former classes, was to be used as the school officials saw fit. Their reliance on the good sense of the officials was well placed.

The condition of the curtain has long been a thorn in the school's side. During the class play the curtain refused to function properly, and thus aroused much care and worry until a temporary remedy was found.

Several local firms offered bids for the work. Work has been going on for several days and we hope that that worry will be dismissed from the minds of students and faculty.

COURTESY COMMITTEE MEETS

On Tuesday evening after school, the courtesy committee of the Senior high school held a meeting in the Home Economics room. The matter discussed was the question of courtesy at dances and banquets. This matter is very appropriate at this time, since the Senior A, Senior B reception will occur in the near future. A courtesy program will take place in home rooms on Friday of this week to discuss the correct behavior at a dance. A question box will be used to answer any questions which the students may want to know.

A newspaper reporter looking around the meeting room trying to pick up some items of interest was highly mystified to observe a large, round tin box which was carried into the meeting room. Inquiry the next day brought to light the fact that the box had contained cookies to appease the appetites of the committee members. The cookies proved to be a great help, for the meeting lasted until 6 o'clock.

The Courtesy committee is composed of representatives of all school organizations and representatives from the faculty. Two courtesy programs have been given this semester and the program Friday promises to be interesting.

How to Guard against the FLU

Every News reader is urged to heed these precautions

The flu epidemic has reached this community. The health authorities are doing their part, but every individual must be on guard.

Keep the family medicine chest supplied with the sensible aids to health; any sickness weakens the system and lowers your resistance to germs.

Every household should have at least one hot water bag, in good condition, or an electric pad; and a fever thermometer. Sleep in airy rooms, with ample covering. Avoid an overheated house during the day; dress warmly when you go out. Beware of over-crowded cars, poorly ventilated public meeting places, stuffy telephone booths. Flu is contagious! Breathe through the nose. Keep the system alkaline, the bowels in good order; Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will help you do both. If you have any symptom of a cold, take Bayer Aspirin according to directions. Don't lose even five minutes! Genuine Bayer Aspirin can't harm you, but a common cold is dangerous at a time like this.

Eat plain foods, get enough rest, and don't over-do. Take these extra precautions to keep in sound physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.

At any sign of actual flu, call a doctor at once. Do not try to treat yourself for influenza!

COOLIDGE'S DEATH TO HAVE POLITICAL EFFECT

Speculation On Party Result

Coolidge Was Being Looked To For Future G. O. P. Leadership

FEW BIG MEN LEFT IN PARTY

Believe Coolidge Had Premonition Of End—Presidency Too Strenuous

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1932, By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Underneath the genuine regret that Washington felt over the passing of Calvin Coolidge, there swung today a lively undercurrent of speculation as to what his death may portend in national politics, particularly Republican politics.

That the former president, whose very name and administration are synonomous with the magic word prosperity, would have been a prominent, perhaps a commanding personality, in the presidential year of 1936 is conceded on all sides. He was only 60 when he died.

Ever since the Republican debacle of last November, when the Republican party under the leadership of Herbert Hoover went down to the most smashing defeat in its history, the party survivors have been talking of the former president as the Messiah of four years hence.

"Who Now?"

And while the flags of Washington swung at half-mast in his honor today, the Republican bigwigs, those that are left, were asking themselves: "Who now?" and the echo answered: "Who?"

There is Mr. Hoover, of course. Yet no Republican candidate, nor Democratic either, for that matter, ever suffered the colossal defeat that Mr. Hoover experienced in 1932 and made a successful come-back. It is an open secret that Mr. Hoover hopes to retain control of the party machinery for the next few years—against eventualities. It is equally an open secret that the party lieutenants—there are no longer any leaders—intend to frustrate that at all costs.

Had Mr. Coolidge lived there is scant doubt that he would have provided the rallying post for Republican sentiment and policy during the next few years. The aura of that magic word "prosperity" played around his head like a halo. Moreover, he was genuinely popular with the rank and file of his party. He grew in restrospect in Republican eyes, and his youth, his availability, his dry humorous philosophy, all have assumed new proportions since the eighth of November last.

Leaders Missing

On the senate side, most of the leaders have passed — Watson, Smoot, Jones, Moses. In the house the Republican casualties in November were terrific, only Snell of New York, among the ruling coterie, surviving, And, to make party matters more complex, Democratic governors sit in the seats of executive authority in 41 of the 48 states.

From this situation, it would seem inevitable that in the come-back year" of 1936, the Republicans must have turned, perforce, to the taciturn little man from Massachusetts.

Four years is a long time in politics. Perhaps by 1936 he would have been passe. Yet the gloom that was everywhere apparent in Republican quarters today was eloquent testimony to the affection and significant esteem in which he was held by his party as against that year.

Yet the encomiums of praise that came from all sides for Calvin Coolidge today were not only from Republican sources. Democrats view with Republicans in doing him honor, and extolling the human characteristics, as well as the executive efficiency, of the man. His dry wit, which will live forever in American history, his keenness of perception, his devotion to basic American principles of government, both Hamiltonian and Jeffersonian, endeared him to all classes and all factions. It is usual, of course, to extol the dead. But there was a ring of true sincerity in the tribute that was paid in Washington today to Calvin Coolidge.

Premonition?

It was considered of more than passing significance that Mr. Coolidge seemed to have a premonition of his death.

In one of the last letters he wrote, to E. T. Clarke, his faithful personal secretary for many years, he said: "I know my work is done." This was only a few days prior to his death. In this same letter he referred to the terrific trial ahead of the incoming president, Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

Few presidents have ever taken any better care of their physical health than did Mr. Coolidge. He had no athletic hobbies, yet he managed to work into each day a certain amount of exercise, whether it was a long walk or the work-out provided by a mechanical horse of the gymnasium type. He was almost a tee-totaller, and he ate with circumspection.

Medical opinion today, while unwilling to be quoted, was to the effect that the nervous strain incident to the presidency and its responsibilities, was responsible for his death, a cumulative strain rather than one of a given time. It raised again the old question of whether any man "can stand the presidency." Calvin Coolidge did to a remarkable degree, so long as he was in it. Out of it, the tension removed, nature exacted its toll, according to the concensus of a number of emminent physicians.

A COLD
Goes Thru 3 Stages!

And Relief Is Far Easier in the First Than in the Second or Third Stages!

A cold ordinarily progresses through three stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is when treatment is most effective.

To stop a cold in the first stage, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It does the four things necessary. Opens the bowels, kills the germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and tones the entire system. Anything less than that is trifling with a cold. All drug stores sell Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE. Be sure you get that and nothing else. Now two sizes—30c and 50c.

Giant French Liner Destroyed by Fire

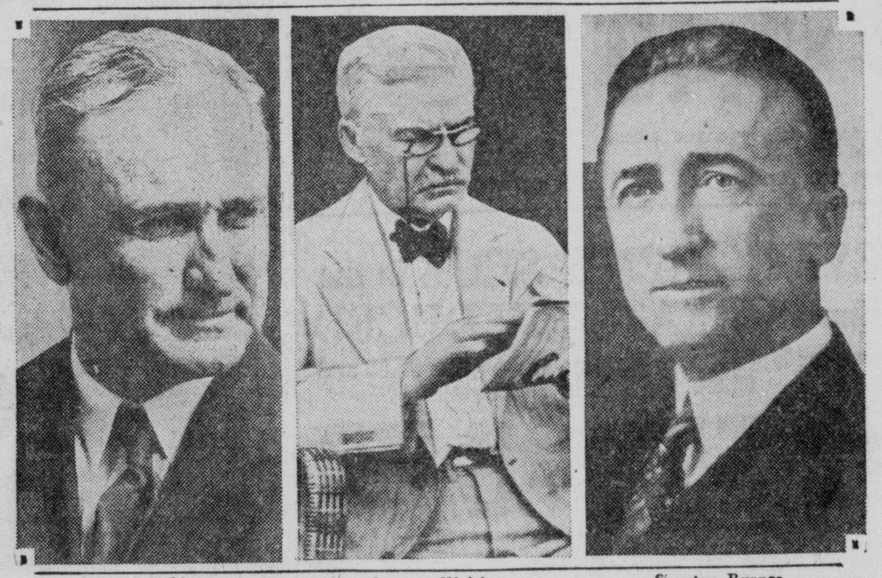

A view of the launching of the French liner L'Atlantique which was destroyed by fire forty miles off Cherbourg, France. The German freighter Ruhr came to the rescue but it is feared that thirty of the crew perished. The French ship, a 40,000-ton vessel, was en route from Bordeaux to Havre for overhauling and carried a skeleton crew of 260. It was the largest ship in the French South Atlantic service, and made only ten trips since her launching early in 1931.

The picture, on file in the United States Bureau of Investigation at Washington, gives a complete classification of Capone's physical characteristics, criminal record, various aliases and photographs. Inserted close-up is an enlargement of the small photo at top of the record.

TOWN'S HOME-MADE CURRENCY IS FOUND TO BE SUCCESSFUL

HAWARDEN, Iowa—This town's home made currency has been so successful that it has received $60 from 60 other towns that want a sample of its fiat money.

Eight weeks ago Hawarden printed 300 one dollar trading certificates With these it paid off its employes.

The employes exchanged the certificates for groceries, clothing and living quarters. The recipients pasted a 3 cent sales tax stamp sold by the city on the back and passed it on.

When 36 stamps were pasted on the back of each certificate, they were redeemable by the city for $1 each, the city meanwhile getting the dollar and printing costs from the sale of tax stamps.

The scheme had worked so successfully, that officials talk of extending it to the entire county.

SOME JAPAN TRADES ENJOYING BIG BOOM

(International News Service)

TOKYO—In many lines of business Japanese manufacturers are enjoying the greatest boom since the world war, attributed to the depreciation in the value of the yen against foreign currencies enabling exporters in this country to strike bargains in electric light bulbs, canned salmon, rubber overshoes, canvas tennis shoes and tuna fish.

In spite of protests originating in the United States against alleged Japanese dumping, local manufacturers are experiencing a lucrative market not encountered in years. Canned tuna shipments this year have mounted to 230,000 cases against 30,000 shipped in 1931.

CARE WILL PREVENT FATAL RABBIT FEVER

(International News Service)

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—If proper precautions are taken in killing and dressing rabbits there is no great danger of contracting tularemia (rabbit fever) according to the State Game and Fish Department.

"Gloves should be worn when skinning the animals and care used in dressing them so as no bones are permitted to scratch or cut the hands," an official said. "Although an occasional new case of tularemia is reported there is no great threat from the disease."

Plan Emergency Red Cross Roll Call This Month

Lawrence County Chapter Will Aid In Nation-Wide Drive In City

WILL RECEIVE MORE COTTON YARD GOODS

At the monthly meeting of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, held in the chapter rooms last evening, plans were made for an emergency Roll Call in the city, which will be conducted during the last week in January.

The solicitation will be done through an envelope campaign and an effort will be made to enroll at least 1,000 members from the city, to aid the Lawrence County Chapter and National Red Cross to carry on the stupendous relief program which has been outlined for them during the coming year.

Committees named by Chairman Harry Alexander to carry on the campaign were as follows:

Envelope—Paul Butz, chairman; Charles E. Allen, and Dr. C. C. Green.

Committee to interest ministers of churches—Mrs. Marcus Feichtwanger, chairman; Mrs. David Kay, F. S. Brenneman and Mrs. Mary Conti.

Entertainment—Ralph F. Davis, chairman, Guy J. Wadlinger and J. Glen Berry.

Students at the Senior High school will address the envelopes, while the aid of the various Boy Scout troops has been promised in the distribution of the same.

Announcement was made by Chairman Alexander that approval had been received of the Chapter's request for 24,000 additional yards of cotton material, which will be distributed to the units in the county and city and made up into garments.

Mr. Alexander stated that 80,989 sacks of flour had been furnished to the unemployed people in Lawrence County during the year starting last spring. A detailed report of the distribution will be given later, showing what districts received this flour and the amounts.

Baptist Men Name Officers

New Pastor Of The Church, Rev. Charles Heaton, Is Chosen To Teach Men's Class

The Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church had its annual get together dinner and election of officers Thursday evening in the basement of the church.

A most delicious roast beef supper was served the men, having been prepared by an efficient committee from the class.

Rev. Charles Heaton, the new pastor, made a big hit with the men with his many readings in different dialects and "Red" Williams sang a solo as well as led the men in pep singing.

Reports were given of the year's work by the various officers and an election held, which resulted in George Fox being named president for another year; Earl Reebel, vice president; Will Harris, treasurer; Howard Zeigler, secretary and D. McClelland, assistant. The new pastor, Rev. Charles Heaton, will teach the class.

Fast days observed at the four seasons of the year by the Roman Catholic church are called Ember Days.

LONDON, Jan. 6—A fortune awaits any American who can find out where sprats go in the summer time.

Thousands of dollars have been spent by the British government departments and fishing companies to find where the little fish live nine months of the year.

"The man who finds the answer to the riddle will be a millionaire within a few months," said an official of the British Trawlers Association.

"The sprat is found in British waters between November and February," he added, "but then he vanishes completely."

Titans Hope To Even Up Count With Edinboro

Westminster To Play Edinboro Teachers At New Wilmington Saturday

EDINBORO HOLDS EARLY VICTORY

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 6—Coach John Lawther's scrappy Westminster College basketball team will have another hard battle on its hands here Saturday night when Sox Harrison's Edinboro State Teacher's College quint invades the Titan court.

Edinboro, after defeating the Titans at Edinboro on December 17, gave Coach Bob Thorn's Grove City tossers a scare at Grove City a few nights later. The Teachers not only have a victory over the Titans but also have a fine team, with a rangy center and two stalwart guards. Unless the Lawthermen play their best every minute, Edinboro will duplicate their early-season victory.

Leyshock Improving

Peter Leyshock, Farrell, has shown improvement with each drill, and will be available for either a guard or a forward post in case ne is needed. Coach Lawther, who left a sick bed Tuesday night to accompany his team to Pittsburgh where Duquesne was defeated, has been able to drill the men since then, and by Saturday should have the players in the right frame of mind for Edinboro's reception.

A feature of this contest will be the first appearance of the entire Westminster student body and the student band at a home game, the students having been away last week when three contests were played on the home court.

Regulars To Start

Douglass and Newton will start at forward against the Teachers, Bennett will be at center, and Siljander and Wilhelm will be at the guard posts. Sweeney, Patt, Leyshock, Hillard, Monaghan, Healy, Hunneke, Southard and Hutchinson will also be available.

The victory over Duquesne will, it is hoped, give the green Titan outfit enough confidence to put up a better game against Edinboro than they did in December.

Three Games In Church League

Two B Loop And One A Division Tilt Carded For Saturday

With opposition keen and rivalry sharp, Church league basketball will have another whirl Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. when three games will be staged. As the race is now rushing toward the middle of the second quarter first half pennant hopes are rising.

First Christians meet the Second U. P. and First Baptist will take on Tifereth Israel in the B loop games. The A division tilt will find St. Mi-Mael opposed to Sacred Hearts. The first game will start at 8:15 p. m.

Christians Will Battle Falcons

Central Christian basketball team will attempt to even up the score with the Polish Falcon quintet tonight at the St. Marys floor. The preliminary game will find the Central Christian girls and Polish Falcon girls playing at 8 o'clock, and there is a preliminary game at 7 o'clock between two fast reserve teams.

There is a lot of rivalry between the Christians and Falcons and a fast game is looked for.

WOULD LIKE GAMES

The Syrian Eagles would like to book basketball games with all first class teams in the city and county. For games call 785-R any time between 5 and 7 o'clock.

New Castle At Rochester For League Battle

Coach Bridenbaugh Takes New Castle High Floor Team To Rochester

RESERVES WILL PLAY IN PRELIM.

New Castle High School basketball team will open their 1933 Section Three basketball schedule tonight at Rochester, Pa., where they will tangle with the fast Rochester High quintet. The preliminary game will start at 7:30 o'clock will have the New Castle and Rochester High Reserves playing.

Coach Bridenbaugh will take his strongest lineup to the valley tonight. The team will leave New Castle around 6 o'clock and it is possible that a party of 15 or 16 will make the trip, with Head Coach Bridenbaugh, Assistant Coaches Thomas and Klee and Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner in charge of the players.

Little is known of the strength of this Rochester team this year, but they always are dangerous in basketball and on that band-box floor they will be tough to beat.

New Castle High won four preseason games and dropped one. New Castle last year won the Section Three title and then were knocked out in Pittsburgh by Braddock High. It's a far cry this year to that ultimate goal, and the New Castle team will have to show a lot of improvement to get past the hurdles formed by Butler, Beaver Falls, Rochester, New Brighton and Ellwood City.

Coach Bridenbaugh has selected the following men to make the trip to Rochester tonight—Johnny Uram captain of the team, "Bus" Reiber, Water Kominic, John Teplica, Archie Ridley, Hnat, Ron Thomas, Fred Shellogg, Miles, Hitchen, Wainio and there will be three others who are not as yet selected.

Poreda-Schaaf Fight Tonight

Winner Of Tonight's Bout In New York May Climb Heavyweight Ladder

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—One of the principals probably doesnt qualify and the other can't but, nevertheless, they're going to hold a gripping encounter of ten rounds between Stanley Poreda and Ernie Schaaf at Madison Square Garden tonight for the announced purpose of developing the heir-apparent in a heavyweight title fight in June.

Schaaf doesn't figure, because he can't. He is managed in part by the champion, Mr. Sharkey himself, and while the profession of pugilism is notoriously broad minded, there are certain natural limits and this is one.

Poreda didn't figure very conspicuously himself until recent weeks. In fact, it wasn't so long ago that he couldn't get in the building without a permit from the city authorities but now Mr. Johnston states that he's a very good prize fighter and is liable to emerge triumphant after a very gruelling struggle. So maybe it would be as well to assume that Poreda's superior skill will manifest itself before the end of ten rounds, although admittedly that's jumping to conclusions.

However, I'm a hardened, old conclusion-jumper and never seem to know when I have enough.

Lincoln-Garfield Loses First Game

Lincoln-Garfield basketball team lost its opening game of the season yesterday afternoon at the Lincoln floor 13 to 5 to the Young Yankee Midgets. The Lincoln-Garfield team this year is very green. They have no veterans left from last year. Merando was the best for the Young Yankee Midgets with Dalen good for the Lincolns. The game was handled by Clause.

Midget Tourney Being Planned

There will be a midget basketball tournament at the armory floor this year and all managers of midget teams wishing to enter the tournament are asked to meet at the armory floor at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon to discuss plans for the affair. The age limit is 16 years. Captain Bintrim and Bill Cooper have full charge of the tournament.

1933 should seem like Old Home Week with so many things scheduled to come back,

St. Andrews Club To Meet Tonight

St. Andrews Athletic club members will have their weekly meeting at the church tonight at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend this meeting as many items of importance will be discussed, according to Dave Riley.

The score at the end of the first half was 17 to 12 in favor of the visitors.

The St. Marys team could not penetrate the cast iron defense put up by the Titans. Lackey was the only man able to score more than one field goal ,and his total was three for the evening. The itinerary follows: Morris, Harvey, Edinboro, Slippery Rock, Waynesburg and Thiel at home and Bethany, Westminster and Geneva away from home.

John (Choppy) Rhodes has resigned as athletic director and head football coach at the University of Wyoming. Wyoming won only one Conference game last fall and was held scoreless in the last four contests. Rhodes went to Wyoming from the University of Nebraska at a salary of $6,000.

Fight fans will get an inkling of who may be who next summer in the heavyweight division as Stanley Poreda and Ernie Schaaf are scheduled to go 10 rounds in New Work tonight. Poreda is favored to win by New Yorkers. Tonight's fight is one of several elimination battles to find an opponent for Jack Sharkey.

Baby Arizmendi, Mexican featherweight who claims he has had only two defeats in 220 fights will meet Archie Bell, the veteran tonight at San Francisco. At Pittsburgh Battling Gizzy meets Louis DiSantis in one half of a double windup and in the other Jimmy Thomas will oppose Frankie Jarr.

Battle Of Babes Will Take Place

"Babe" Ruth Accepts Challenge Flung Down By Miss Didrikson

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6—The battle of the Babes was assured today when Babe Ruth, big shot of baseball, accepted the challenge of Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, ace of women athletes, to compete against her in a round robin of sport events.

The girl star of the Olympics picked handball, running, baseball throwing, billiards, swimming, golf and bowling as the sports in which she thinks the masculine Babe might give her a fair battle.

Of course, she doesn't think Ruth would have a chance in some other sports at which she is proficient such as high and fancy diving and archery, but she says the events named might be close enough to be interesting.

"Say" rumbled the Ruthian basso, when he heard about it, "I want to see that dame. She must be pretty good at that but she's off her nut if she thinks she can take me at golf or bowling or tossing a baseball or handball. I think I'm pretty fair at those games myself."

Union Ready To Play Zelienople

Union High Will Have Section 18 Champions At Union High Gym

Union high school basketball team will open their 1933 Section 18 W. P. I. A. L. program tonight at the Union High gym by meeting the strong Zelienople High team, champions of the section last year. There is a preliminary game with Wesley meeting the Eintrachts at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach Boyd said today that his Union team is ready for one of their toughest games of the year, against the Zelienople combination coached by Tommy Sager. Union wants to avenge those two upsets last year at the hands of Zelienople.

Boyd will likely start the following lineup tonight with many changes likely to occur as the game progresses—Schaas and Boron, at the forwards, Phillips at center and White and Morrison at the guards. In reserve Boyd will have Sniezek, Monico and Slezeski ready to enter the game at any time.

Should Union get by this team tonight they will have a fine chance of going to the top of the section.

Franklin To Play Plaingrove Team

There will be two fast basketball games at the Ben Franklin high floor this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the Plaingrove high varsity will stack up against the Big Bens coached by Emmett Gillaspie, and the Plaingrove reserves team will play the Ben Franklin undefeated five coached by Bill Wallace.

Fire Damages East Side Home

Hot Ashes Placed In Paper Container, Sets Fire To House Last Night

Fire which originated when hot ashes from the furnace were placed in a pasteboard box, damaged the home of R. W. Carey of 1062 Adams street at 11:10 last evening to the extent of $300.

An alarm from Box 412 summoned No. 4 and B truck companies to the scene. When firemen arrived, they found the flames had eaten their way up through the floor and had worked their way into the partitions above. They succeeded in extinguishing the blaze with a minimum loss, however.

The damage is covered by insurance.

Foiled Kidnaper

Abducted at pistol point by a would-be kidnaper, pretty 17-year-old Erna Natisch, of Los Angeles, proved that she is an opportunist of the first caliber. Taken to a lonely spot in an automobile by her abductor, Erna watched her chance until the bad man laid his gun on the floor of the car for more freedom in driving. Then she snatched the weapon and turned the tables. Glad to have escaped from her predicament, she allowed the man to speed away.

Stock Market Trading Quiet

Prices Are Firmer—Pivotal Stocks Show Little Change Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The quietness which descended on the stock market following the death of Calvin Coolidge yesterday carried over into the forenoon today.

Prices were firmer, aided by the decision to balance the budget reached at the conference here last night between President-Elect Roosevelt and congressional leaders. Trading, however, was slow and volume ran well under the total of the last two days.

Rail stocks were aided by the discussion of ways and means to help the carriers at last night's meeting. N. Y. Central and Pennsylvania led the lower-priced rails while Union Pacific and Atchison were outstanding in the higher brackets.

There was some activity in the motor stocks at rising prices as a pre-welcome for the opening of the annual auto show tomorrow but gains were small.

Allied Chemical was the strongest of the leaders, rising more than a point on persistent demand.

American Can was another strong spot. Other pivotal stocks like U. S. Steel, American Telephone and Consolidated Gas were firm.

Fresh strength in wheat stimulated the farm stocks with Case Threshing going up easily against the shorts. Commodity markets were generally firm while bonds were steady.

Ellwood High Set For Section III Inaugural Here

Capacity Crowd Expected To View Ellwood-Beaver Falls Game Tonight

RESERVES TO PLAY PRELIM CONTEST

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6.—With Beaver Falls high opening the section three campaign for Ellwood tonight at Lincoln gym, nothing less than a capacity crowd is expected to watch the two rivals play for honors.

For years the Tigers have held an important sport on the blue and white schedule and have never failed to attract big crowds. Tonight local supporters will flock to Lincoln gym to watch the Benedict men. Ellwood high has already won four consecutive games and will be out tonight to achieve a victory over the formidable Heckathorne five.

Coach "Ganzy" Benedict concluded a stiff week's workout for his squad last night with a long scrimmage session in which the first string was required to play against the second and third stringers without rest. They went through all their plays in this time. The whole squad is rarin' to go after their Christmas vacation.

The locals know well that the visitors will be no easy nut to crack this evening and are expecting one of the toughest games of the season. They will have their hands full in caring for Carnelly and McLain at the forward berths, Olzack and Brunansky at the guards and Barry at the pivot position. Against this array Coach Benedict will send in a combination that to date has clicked fine. Bolotin and Latiano will be at the forwards, Bunney and Vandrello at the guards and Capt. Barnes at center.

The reserves of both schools will stage a preliminary contest which will begin at 7 o'clock. The main game starts at 8:15.

Fire Chief Submits His Annual Report

Fine Record Is Made By Local Fire Department For Past Year

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6.—A fine record was established by the Ellwood City fire department for the past year according to the annual report of Fire Chief H. T. Plante to council at its monthly meeting in the city building last night.

He first submitted his customary written report for the month of December in which there were three fires wtih losses of $150, $3800 and $25. For their services firemen received $102.

The annual report shows that the department answered 43 calls, 36 in the borough and seven out. The loss in the borough was $23,565 and out, 013,129. A total of 11,550 feet of hose was used, not including 1000 feet of chemical hose, in fighting the fires. Also 175 gallons of chemicals and 536 feet of ladder. The fire trucks traveled a total distance of 68 miles. The total value of the buildings and their contents in which there were fires was $613,440.

W. M. S. MEETS AT GALLAHER HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6.—Last evening at 8 o'clock the members of the Women's Missionary society of the Wurtemburg U. P. church convened at the home of Mrs. J. A. Gallaher at Wurtemburg for their regular January meeting with a majority of the members in attendance.

Plan To Remove Harmony Tracks

Councilmen Urge That Work Be Done While Prices Are Low

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6.—Considerable discussion on the advisability of removing the Harmony Company tracks on Fountain avenue developed in Ellwood City borough council at its regular meeting in the city hall last night.

Chairman of the Finance committee G. H. Morrison announced that he had received another check from Harmony officials for damages done in the city. He stated that officials themselves in previous communications to council asserted that the rails were borough property and that tearing-up work could be started at their convenience. Mr. Morrison said that he had ready conferred with highway officials on the matter of repairing the street after the rails are torn up. All that is necessary will be using brick on a sand base. He pointed out that the rails could be stored until a better price can be obtained than the present day scrap price. It was estimated that $3500 would have to be expended in doing this work. Most of this would be for material and supervision since labor could be obtained free. Mr. Morrison estimated that the selling of the rails later on would pay for two thirds of the repair cost.

President J. E. Powell and other members of council urged that if the work was to be done, it should be as soon as possible while prices and rates are low. Definite action on the matter was deferred with the next regular meeting.

Plan To Start Work On Sewer

Will Combine Fifth Ward Sewage Disposal Plant With Borough's

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6.—Definite steps are being taken to start work in connecting the Fifth Ward Sewage Plant with the borough Plant on Wampum avenue according to action taken by the Borough Council at its monthly meeting last night in the city building.

A resolution for obtaining right of way to cross property in laying a trunk sanitary sewer between the two plants was presented by Councilman William McGlincy and accepted by council.

Councilman Alex Main opposed the motion suggesting that a tentative survey be made first. He believed that the old fifth ward plant could be satisfactorily repaired. Councilman Riley pointed out that the cost for this and joining the two plants would be about the same and so it would therefore be best to do the latter thing.

Council urged that his work also be done as early as possible in view of the low rates now.

During this discussion Councilman Thomas D. Rocco protested the action of President J. E. Powell in referring the matter with the Harmony Company to the Finance Committee when he stated it should go the Street or Railroad and Electric Light committee. The Finance committee was ready to relinquish their responsibility, but President Powell settled the matter by referring the case to the three committees.

Monthly Business Before Council

Borough Council Assembles In City Building Last Night For Regular Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6—Ellwood City borough council met in the city building last night for its regular monthly meeting with all members but one present.

Council after some serious discussion decided to accept the recommendation of M. A. Riley and send a delegate to the twenty-third annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs at Harrisburg on February 7 and 8.

Those present were of the opinion that the present delinquent tax penalties should be abolished and a new system set up. Despite the announcement that this will be one of the principal items of business when the state legislature convenes, council decided to instruct their delegate to the borough convention to bring the matter up to induce the drafting of a bill to this effect, as a precautionary measure. Council will also request Assemblymen McElwee and Eroe to place their combined efforts on this matter.

Councilman Alex Mains, chairman of the rules and regulations committee, announced at this time that an important matter has come up which will need further consideration before the committee is able to make a report on the request of admitting the west end of the city known as Park Gate, into the borough. A definite report was promised for the next meeting.

The report of the local police department for the month of December showed that six arrests were made of which three were discharged, two fined and one forfeited. Total fines and forfeits yielded $74. Relative to the department Councilman William McGlincy, chairman of the police commitee, stated that a new telephone switch board in the local police station will not be installed. An agreement has been reached with the Bell Telephone company where the present switch board will be retained at a reduced rate.

There are four cases of scarlet fever, three of measles and two of pneumonia in the contagious cases for the past month, according to the report of the local health department.

Secretary E. B. Moyer announced that the government tax on electricity for December was $254.23.

Some repair work on the streets here was then contemplated by council. Several places where conditions could be improved were pointed out. Councilman G. H. Morrison, chairman of the finance committee, stated that it had been suggested to him that council raise the curb on the south side of Orchard avenue and North street to prevent rains flooding properties and sidewalks there. Similar conditions were pointed out by Councilman Thomas D. Rocco on Third street and Hillside avenue. He recommended more sewers in that vicinity. Upon his suggestion the street committee will look into the caved in portion of the street on Division avenue.

Report Shows New Tax System Success

Accountant Tells Council How New Tax Collection System Functions Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 6.—Members of the Ellwood City Borough Council and School Board have reason to be cheerful in view of the pleasing report made on the nex tax collection system in operation here, by C. F. McClaren, local accountant, by whom the system was installed.

The report was a complete written account with blue print illustrations. Since council had approved the monthly payment of taxes a new and more accurate record of all taxes had to be installed. The finance committee of council made provisions for the new system, but left the actual installing and putting it into operation, in the hands of Mr. McClaren who has done other work for council and the school board. He has recently installed a new and more accurate bookkeeping system for the school district.

When Tax Collector E. B. Moyer took over his duties he had great difficulty in straightening matters out with the records available at the time. Since then Mr. McClaren has installed a card index system where a record of all taxes and taxables are kept and can be obtained or determined at a moments notice. He has also devised a plan which will discourage delinquent taxpayers. All tax payers receive ample notice when their monthly installment is due.

The new system has now been in operation for two months and Tax Collector Moyer and his assistant Jack Charles are amazed at its success. Payments have been good and are meeting all expectations. They have been arranged in such a way so as not to produce a great burden at one time. A total of $15,707.54 has been collected for the month of December, Mr. Moyer states. Of this $11,214.40 is school tax and $2265.76 borough tax. There is still $62,939.01 to collect of the duplicate.

Observations In 7th Ward

It is going to be hard to forget the little fellow. He wasn't a thoroughbred, part bulldog and part fox terrior, be believe, but he was a clever little fellow in his earlier days and won a reputation which lasted on through sixteen years. Trixie has died; everyone thinks it is too bad.

He was owned by the Pacurar family on West Madison avenue, coming here as a pup sixteen years ago. He was brown with a white diamond on his neck, white paws and ever-alert ears. Smart, mischievous, naughty, and cute are words that might describe him. He was a good hunter—but had a weakness for cats.

Trixie probably will be remembered longest, perhaps, by his 'shoestring trick." He would take great sport in patroling the streets in search of a pedestrian with an untied shoestring. And when he found one—well, it was just too bad for that person. Trixie would make his famous shoestring dive, then a pull, and snap would go the string, and its new possessor strode off victoriously. Next to cats and rabbits Trixie liked shoestrings best.

On East Cherry street yesterday was an automobile all dressed up in a new inspection sticker. The new ones are pink, if you please.

Brings Home Five Foot Black Snake

E. B. Ray Claims He Will Use Snake As Ratter And Keep As Pet

E. B. Ray, of 512 Hillcrest avenue, well known conductor of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, brought home a pet from Bakerstown the other day on his return from work which not all his friends at least agree with him as to the desirability of having it around.

The pet in this instance, is a blacksnake, which lacks just two inches of being five feet in length. In spite of the fact that this is the time of year that it is supposed to be hibernating and asleep, it was quite wide awake, when Mr. Ray caught it and is still very much awake.

Mr. Ray saw something sticking out of a culvert at Bakerstown and figured it was a blacksnake. He grabbed and drew the snake out and brought it home with him.

He states that he feeds it milk and that he plans to make a good ratter out of his new pet.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

One might easily be mistaken in the police station just now. A look inside the first door to the left and you imagine you are in the radio room of a ship at sea. The blue uniforms of the officers add to the idea, and one visitor the other night getting into the spirit of the thing asked the captain of the ship when they would sight Queenstown.

It's the new police alarm system, and it certainly looks efficient. A large desk, a panel, more panels, knobs, gadgets and meters, a string of tape running across the front of the machine, and now and then a rat-a-tat-tat as some officer on a beat reports. The report comes in as a perforation on the tape and the officer on duty transcribes it.

Lights flash on the panel board, bells ring, and about the only gadget missing is a barometer. Lew Reeble, who has had the title of night mayor for a lot of years believes they should add a stock report to the machine. Joking aside, the new police alarm system seems to be about as efficient as human hands can make it.

The new machine is placed in a rather historic spot in the city building. Back in 1898 the city treasurer's office was located in the room immediately next to the cove where the alarm system now is. John Blevins was the city treasurer and the spot where he was murdered is but a few steps from the spot where the machinery has been installed.

In those days the treasurer was in a secluded spot and it was possible to get away with the crime. Some time later the treasurer's office was moved to the front of the building to the site it now occupies.

One slogan that is becoming popular is "Buy American". Saw a lady in a jewelry store the other day purchasing a watch. After looking the product over, getting the price and trying it on she said, "on thing more; where was it made." In the United States was the answer, and the sale was consummated.

You pay for everything you get and that goes for these Oriental electric light bulbs that have flooded the market. Cheaper than American made bulbs they attract the unwary purchaser. He soon learns that they give a less efficient light, wear out quicker, and eat up your electric current much faster than American made bulbs.

"Buy American" might seem to be a selfish thory if other nations of the world were not engaged in similar projects. Self preservation is the first law of Nature, so somebody or other once said, and when you buy American you are helping to preserve American industry, American workmen, and the American standard of living.

There was a time when Europe sent us goods that could not be equalled in America. Not so today.

Army Drill Tactics Have Been Changed

"Squads Right" Command Will No Longer Ring Out Over Drill Field

According to The Pennsylvania Guardsmen, new Infantry Drill regulations will be tested out during the coming year by different units of the 28th Division, most of them Infantry units.

In the tentative regulations, many of the old commands and movements have been abandoned, which will be of interest to former war veterans and army men, who listened to "Squads Right" and "Squads Left" day after day while they were in service.

These formations have been abandoned and troops will march in columns of threes instead of fours as heretofore.

A squad will consist of eight men in line, and companies will "fall in" in three ranks. When it is desired to move a company to the left, the command will simply be "Left Face Forward March." When the company is to be reformed, the command will be "Company Halt—Right Face.' And that's all there is to it.

Some of the Regular Army outfits who have been using the new drills and movements are said to have found them a vast improvement over the old, stereotyped methods.
